A sound is building. Like a living wind. A thousand screams in agony.

From the blackness, gusts of smoke pull together quickly, forming the Main Title against black:

"EVIL DEAD"

Then beneath it, the Roman Numeral "II."

A SLOW ZOOM brings it toward us. And as the screams reach their sharp crescendo the title zooms through us.

ANGLE - STOP MOTION ANIMATION

Whispering smoke against a black background. EERIE MUSIC. In the distance, through the smoke, a small object. It fans toward us quickly, filling the frame. It is an ancient skin covered volume, with the outline of a human face on it's cover. This is the Book of the Dead.

NARRATOR

Legend has it, that it was written by the dark ones: NECRONOMICON EX MORTES; Roughly translated...The Book of the Dead.

The face on the cover of the book, pulls away from its skin binding and leans toward the camera. EYES on the book blink open and peer at us. It's mouth opens and emits a hideous scream. The CAMERA races into the blackness of the screaming mouth.

NARRATOR

To trace the origin of the Book, we must go back...back...to a day when spirits ruled the earth.

Wispy shapes of animated ghosts move through this vortex, coming toward the CAMERA with WAILING and MOANING and then are gone.

NARRATOR

When the seas ran red with blood.

Through animation, the blank pages of the Book are scripted in a strange hieroglyphic by an invisible hand.

Faster and faster the pages turn on the Book as the blood red ink is scrawled across them. The pages flip furiously until the Book snaps shut, revealing its gruesome face on the cover.

The book flaps violently away from camera.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

The Book of the Dead was last seen in 1300 A.D.

5 EXT. KANDAR CASTLE - DUSK - 4 WARRIORS - 4 HORSES 5

CAMERA panning down to reveal a magnificent newly built castle of stone. Bright banners fly from its turrets. An ox grazes nearby. 4 Warriors on horseback in the BG.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

It was then that the dark spirits again rose up to battle the living.

The ground in front of the castle begins to split apart. A red glow and smoke pour from the growing crevice. Something evil is being unleashed. A strong wind kicks up blowing sand in a furious rage.

5A EXT. KANDAR CASTLE - DUSK
TRACKING SHOT - ASH

5A

Through the blowing silt, a lone figure appears. An image of power and light. His clothing is ragged, and he holds what appears to be a jagged toothed longsword. Two massive columns of stone stand on either side. CAMERA slowly moves closer, but his face is still hidden by the darkness and blowing sands.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

It is said that a hero came from the sky. A man who defeated this evil and buried the Book in the Castle of Kandar. And there it lay for 700 years...

EXT. CASTLE OF KAN DAR - DAY - RUINS

6

As the raging dust storm clears to reveal the same castle which we saw earlier, but now, in a ruined state. It has aged 700 years. The ox is gone. Now only its petrified skeletal remains stand in a weathered heap.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

...Waiting.

A four wheel drive vehicle roars PAST THE CAMERA and toward the castle.

INT. CASTLE OF KAN DAR - DAY - (STUDIO)
TRACKING SHOT

7

The CAMERA slowly tracks in toward the Book of the Dead as it sits in the darkness of the stone tomb. Next to it rests the KANDARIAN DAGGER, an ancient knife, its handle fashioned from the skull of a weasel. They rest upon a small pedestal covered with cobwebs. Prominently displayed on the stone wall, a bas relief of the "Hero from the Sky" holding his unusual jagged edged weapon.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

And then...

The grinding of rock scraping against rock is heard, and a large stone is swung open on a secret hinge in the wall behind the book. Wind sweeps in through the tomb, along with the blinding light from outside. A sharply silhouetted figure steps in the newly created doorway. The figure lights a torch that he holds, illuminating his face. This is PROFESSOR RAYMOND KNOWBY. An intelligent, grey bearded man in his late fifties. He lowers the cloth around his face that had been protecting him from the sand. He stares at the Book, awestruck.

Behind him, two other figures appear in the entrance of the tomb. The first is a large school-marmish woman, the wife of Raymond Knowby, HENRIETTA. She moves to Raymond's side and takes his hand. Immediately behind her is their daughter, ANNIE KNOWBY; twenty-four years old, strong stance and beautiful. Behind her a handsome looking man, ED GETLY, enters the tomb. He moves to Annie's side. They exchange excited glances. The CAMERA PANS down to the Book.

An old log cabin, built in the valley of a dark forest.
A great wind billows fog about the place.

NARRATOR (V.O.)

Professor Raymond Knowby and his wife,
HENRIETTA, brought the book to a small cabin where they could study it undisturbed.

10 INT. CABIN MAIN ROOM - NIGHT

10

Professor Raymond Knowby sits at a writing desk and transcribes passages from the Book of the Dead. A small framed photograph of his daughter Annie sits upon the table. Behind him, HENRIETTA sits knitting in a rocking chair.

He speaks the phonetic pronunciation of completed sentences into the microphone of a tape recorder.

RAYMOND

...Amantos...Kanda!

The sound of RAYMOND reciting the passages is faded down as THE CAMERA SLOWLY TRACKS away from RAYMOND and over to HENRIETTA as she rocks back into the darkness and forward into the light. As she rocks forward into the light, she comes into FULL CLOSEUP revealing that her eyes have changed to a milky white. She continues to knit.

RAYMOND

It has only been a few hours since I've translated and spoke aloud the first of the demon resurrection passages from the Book of the Dead.

The sound of heavy footsteps. Dust drifts down INTO FRAME. Raymond looks up to the ceiling of the cellar. It is also the floor to the main room of the cabin. He watches in horror as Henrietta's silhouette paces the floor above him. And then, the footsteps halt.

RAYMOND

And now, I fear that my wife has become host to a Kandarian demon. May God forgive me for what I have unleashed onto this earth.

A handsome young man, ASH, is playing the waltz music on an old wooden piano. Linda dances behind him. Ash is not a very good pianist, and can only plunk out the melody with two fingers.

31 EXT. CABIN - DAWN - RECREATION OF THE 31
FINAL SHOT OF EVIL DEAD I

We are racing forward. We have taken the POV of an EVIL ENTITY as it glides with dark purpose through a section of woods. It approaches the rear door of the cabin. The door is torn violently open. The next door falls away from us. We approach the front door. SLAM! It jigsaws in two and we are again outside, now in front of the cabin. Ash is seen in the distance. He is staggering away, his back to us as we race at him. He turns suddenly towards CAMERA and screams.

32 EXT. WOODS - DAWN 32
INTERVOLOMETER STOP MOTION/CRANE - SAM-O-CAM

The final shot of Evil Dead I has a new ending; an extension. Ash is caught by an invisible grip. "G" force is distorting Ash's face as he is rocketed backwards. He is swept hand over foot through the air. He reaches the edge of the woods and begins tearing through the branches and smaller trees, clearing a path with his body. He finally slams into a large ungiving tree trunk and he is knocked unconscious.

MEDIUM SHOT - ASH - PULLING BACK

To reveal Ash as he looks from the sunset, to the ruined

Ash opens his mouth, draws in his breath, and just as he begins to scream, we CUT TO:

63 EXT BRIDGE - TWILIGHT - POV OF EVIL FORCE
3 CAMERAS - BREAKAWAY TREES

63

As it rises up from what appears to be the mountain chasm and reveals the opposite side of the twisted girders which form the "Giant Hand." It spots Ash immediately beyond. It moves swiftly toward him. Ash looks up, sensing the evil and darts into the Delta 88. The FORCE moves through the twisted girders, pushing them away violently and races toward the car.

The Delta starts up and peels off. The Evil Force just misses it. The car doesn't have the room to complete the one hundred and eighty degree turn necessary to head back down the road the way it originally came, and is forced into a line of break-away trees which explode into sawdust as the front of the Delta 88 rips through them. The car swerves onto the road, headed back toward the cabin.

83 INT. CABIN - STUDIO - "MAZE SHOT" - FORCE POV

83

Camera moves through the main room and up to the Hallway door. It shatters in front of us. We close in on Ash as he races down the hallway. We lose him as he swings into the back bedroom of the cabin and slams the door behind him. We rip through this door and enter the rear bedroom, only to see Ash scrambling for the door to the middle bedroom, which we approach and he swings shut in our face. We rip through to reveal Ash scurrying into the Hallway. We follow him through the bathroom, the maze, and back out into the Hallway. We round the corner after him and see that Ash has led us into the main room, but there is not a trace of him. We look about for him, but he is gone. The hallway is bare except for a few dry leaves.

84 INT./EXT. CABIN - LOCATION - POV EVIL FORCE

84

The force begins to pull back with an ever-increasing speed, out the front door of the cabin, and deep into the blackness of the woods.

85 INT. CABIN MAIN ROOM - NIGHT

85

A static shot of the fireplace. All is quiet. Smoke from the near dead fire wafts up the chimney. We hold on this for a moment.

85A ANGLE - MIDDLE BEDROOM CLOSET - NIGHT

A static shot of a closet with it's door half open. The door begins to swing slightly open, revealing a rack of clothes inside. We hold on this for a moment.

85B ANGLE - CABIN MAIN ROOM - NIGHT - TRACKING SHOT

85B

A writing desk with some papers atop it. They begin to tremble and finally blow away from the light breeze that sweeps through the cabin. The CAMERA PANS down from this desk to reveal a trap door in the floor of the main room. The trap door to the cellar. It is raised up on its hinge an inch or so and in that slight space between the trap door and the floor we see Ash's eyes, looking cautiously about. He breathes a sigh of relief.

149K

Ed Getly stands in the FG and watches as an older style twin engine cargo plane flies over the camera and lands.

149L AIRSTRIP - NIGHT - TRACKING SHOT - PASSENGERS

149L

The airplane rolls to a halt. A man wearing a jumpsuit ties the airplane off and blocks the wheels while a redcap opens the hatch and helps out Annie Knowby. She carries a glass case in her hand as she moves toward us. Behind her five other passengers emerge from the Plane. Ed approaches Annie.

ED

Annie!

ANNIE

(smiling at sight of him)

Hi.

They embrace and kiss.

ED

How'd everything go on the expedition?

ANNIE

Terrific. I found the additional pages from the Book of the Dead.

ED

So you said in the telegram. What condition are they in?

She holds out the glass case for Ed to look at.

TRACKING SHOT - ED AND ANNIE - THEY CONTINUE WALKING

ED

Haven't aged a day in three thousand years.

ANNIE

Maybe longer.

ED

When do we begin the translations?

ANNIE

Tonight. Is everything all set with my father?

ED

Should be, but I haven't spoken to him in a week, what with no phone in that cabin. Take us about an hour to get there.

They arrive at the parking lot. Two new, sharp looking cheverolets and Ed's old style cheverolet.

ED

We'll take my car.

Ed opens the car trunk. Behind him a redcap pulls up a large steamer trunk on a hand dolly. Ed and the redcap hoist the steamer up into the car's trunk.

ED

Annie, you hinted in your telegram that your father was on to something with the first part of his translations. What's the big mystery? What has he found in The Book of the Dead?

ANNIE

Maybe nothing. But just possibly... the doorway to another world?

Annie slams the car trunk.

CAMERA has taken the POV of the evil force as it glides eerily through the woods, around trees and over rotted stumps. We are now within the vortex. A swirling mass of colors and clouds. And nightmarish sound effects.

Objects come AT US from the distance and roar past, an uprooted tree, the grandfather clock with its hands winding backwards at an incredible rate, Ash spinning AT US, hand over foot, screaming. The chainsaw still mounted to his wrist.

CLOSE SHOT - WARRIOR #1

690

As he looks to Ash.

691 MED. SHOT - WARRIORS

691

They follow his gaze. The CAMERA PANS TO Ash. He stands alone on a small pile of rubble clutching his smoldering shotgun. He looks about dazedly. He tries to get his bearings.

692 WIDE SHOT - WARRIORS

692

They falter. Unsure of how to react to this strange man, who a moment before was pronounced a Deadite. From the crowd, the Warrior #1 calls out:

WARRIOR #1

Hail he, who has come from the sky, to deliver us from the terrors of the deadites!

WARRIOR #4

Hail !

WARRIOR #5

Hail !

The cry is taken up by all. A line of medieval warriors bow. Then twenty. Then fifty. All remove their helmets and kneel silently in the dust.

Somewhere in the distance a DRUM SOUNDS. Ash stands frozen. Terrified, unsure of where or when he is. Knowing only for the present, he is alive.

As the wind kicks up blowing dust, Ash strikes a familiar pose. It is the same image of the "Hero from the Sky" that we saw earlier in the film. The strange "jagged edged longsword" is Ash's chainsaw.

The CAMERA PULLS BACK from him as a great medieval castle rears up INTO FRAME. It is seen to be the castle of Kandar. The same castle we saw in the beginning of the film. Now, however, the castle is not a ruin, but brand new. As the CAMERA continues to pull back from Ash, the title "EVIL DEAD" appears on the screen accompanied by the distant ROAR of some dying animal: The SCREEN cuts to BLACK WITH A THUNDEROUS BOOM.
